

Description of Teaching Activities within WebCV

Last updated: April 2010

The different types of teaching activities available within WebCV are listed below. Please note that the list of activities is dependant on the Educational Level drop down menu. Applicable activity types automatically populate in the field when an option for Educational Level is selected.

- Seminars/Lectures - represents seminars or lectures scheduled centrally. “Scheduled centrally” indicates that the activity was scheduled by an organizational unit such as a Department or Division within the University or a Hospital. This type of teaching activity is considered as formal.
- Small Group or PBL Teaching - represents teaching in small group clinics or PBL (problem-based learning) tutorials scheduled centrally for a course that has a registered course code. Scheduled centrally indicates that the activity was scheduled by an organizational unit such as a Department or Division within the University or a Hospital. This type of teaching activity is considered as formal.
- Examinations - an activity which indicates conducting formal examinations. This type of teaching activity is considered as formal.
- Formal Teaching Rounds (Scheduled Centrally) - represent presentations or lectures given in centrally scheduled events. “Scheduled centrally” indicates that the activity was scheduled by an organizational unit such as a Department or Division within the University or a Hospital. Such events are NOT part of a course with a registered course code. This type of teaching activity is considered as formal.
- Informal Teaching Rounds (Scheduled by Teaching) - represent teaching activities arranged by the teacher which are NOT part of a formal course (i.e. not part of a course with registered course code). This type of teaching activity is considered as informal.
- Clinical Supervision - clinical (excluding research) supervision of students are entered on the Clinical Supervision page. This includes items such as ward attending, in-patient and outpatient clinic supervisions, and Operating room, Laboratory, or Procedures supervision. Direct refers to students who are assigned to a teacher. Elective refers to when a supervisor and student have explicitly agreed to participate in a supervisor-student relationship.
